

ABSTRACT

This research examines the metaphorical sentences which express emotion in the Rainshadow Road by Lisa Kleypas. The research has three goals. The first is to find the kinds of emotions which are expressed by metaphorical sentences. The second is to figure out what the metaphors refer to. Then, it is to reveal the most dominant emotion which is expressed by the metaphors in the novel. Library research is used to collect the data. There are thirty three metaphorical sentences which are collected from the novel. The results show that there are various emotions which are expressed through the metaphorical sentences. Happiness is found as the most dominant emotion which is expressed in the novel.
