Abstract

The scope of all kinds of industries around the world has keep on increasing their level of complexity since the Industry revolutionary era. Therefore, a well-planned and reliable system is a mandatory for any kinds of industry, especially giant industry such as manufacturing industry.

Therefore, this paper will focus on analyzing the business process and requirements of Tire Manufacturing Company especially in distribution and supply chain area, and compare their current system with the proposed system, which is Microsoft Dynamics GP, an ERP application from Microsoft.

This paper will have two main readers, each with different purpose. First, this paper has the purpose to act as a proposal to the Tire Manufacturing Company that has no reliable system at the moment. The other purpose is as a report for the IT Consultation Company to understand their prospect client's business process and requirements.
