ABSTRACT

This paper discusses the errors of infinitive and gerund clauses that occur in students' writing. Research is done in order to investigate errors that the students tend to make in applying infinitive and gerund phrases to their writing.

The result of the analysis is expected to facilitate readers, especially students, to know better the characteristics of infinitive and gerund.
ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

Give big thanks to God who has showered me with blessings and strength that I finally could see this paper through. I would also like to take this opportunity to write my thank you to the people who have given me support and contribution during my working on this paper. I would like to start off by thanking my Dean of Faculty of Letters, Ms.Inneke Indra Dewi and Head of English Department, Ms.Wiwik Andreani for your continuous dedication to the students, especially to me. To the English Department Secretary, Mr.Rudy Purwanto, for helping me provide the materials for this paper. To my mentor, Ms.Elisabeth Tan Yanti, without your constructive criticism, support, advise, correction, and guidance, this paper would not be well written. Thank you so much, Ms.Yanti. To my beloved family, thank you for all support and love. Warm thanks to Suwandy, my lovely brother, for all your suggestions and ideas for my paper, and my sweetie sister, Yenti, for borrowing me your computer. I also want to express my thanks to my best friends, Yuliana Dewi and Yulia, for giving me motivation and encouragement. I would like to end now by saying thank you to everyone who reads this paper. I hope you enjoy this and gain something useful from this paper.
Chapter 1 PREFACE

1.1 Background ................................................................. 1
1.2 Statement of problem ................................................. 2
1.3 Scope and Limitation ............................................... 2
1.4 Goal and Function ................................................... 3
1.5 Methodology .............................................................. 3

Chapter 2 LITERATURE

2.1 Definition ................................................................. 4
  2.1.1 Infinitive .......................................................... 4
  2.1.2 Gerund ............................................................. 5
2.2 Types of infinitive .................................................... 5
  2.2.1 Infinitive as subject ............................................. 5
  2.2.2 Infinitive as subject complement ............................ 5
    2.2.2.1 After linking verb ........................................ 5
    2.2.2.2 After passive verb ...................................... 6
  2.2.3 Infinitive as object ............................................ 6
    2.2.3.1 After verb ................................................ 6
    2.2.3.2 After verb expressing purpose ......................... 9
    2.2.3.3 After make, let, have .................................. 10
    2.2.3.4 After adjective .......................................... 10
    2.2.3.5 After too and enough .................................. 10
  2.2.4 Infinitive as passive ........................................... 11
Chapter 3 ANALYSIS OF ERRORS

3.1 Analysis description..............................................17

3.2 Error division......................................................17

3.2.1 Infinitive as subject..........................................18

3.2.2 Infinitive as subject complement........................19

3.2.3 Infinitive as object...........................................20

3.2.4 Infinitive as passive.........................................22

3.2.5 Gerund as subject............................................23

3.2.6 Gerund as subject complement..........................24

3.2.7 Gerund as object.............................................24

3.2.8 Gerund as passive...........................................25

Chapter 4 CONCLUSION

4.1 Conclusion......................................................26

4.2 Suggestion......................................................27